

Bučan Bučan

Bučan Bučan, Victoria's favourite Folk/Roots group in 2013 (Monday Magazine Awards), is a "high energy," "spontaneous," "not to be missed" Balkan brass marching band!

Made up of a very colourful and talented collection of musicians playing trumpets, violins, tubas, accordions, clarinets, flugelhorns, trombones and drums, Bučan Bučan has been entertaining crowds for the last six years with its variety of traditional, eastern European brass band tunes and original material inspired by Balkan rhythms and melodies. This high energy group is mobile and often plays while moving around a venue, indoors or outside, making use of the different features of performance spaces while giving their audiences an up close and personal experience with live music.

Alternately, the band is just as comfortable on a nightclub stage playing to a packed dance floor.
